Dear Sir/Madam,

The International Organization for Medical Physics (IOMP) is an internationally acclaimed professional body dedicated to the advancement of medical physics practice worldwide — disseminating scientific and technical information, fostering the educational and professional development of medical physicists, and promoting the highest quality medical services for patients.

As Chair of the Medical Physics World Board (MPWB), I am writing to invite your organisation to consider one or more of our advertising and publishing opportunities. IOMP's communication channels reach over 50,000 subscribers and 90 National Member Organisations and 2 Affiliate Organizations across more than 100 countries, with direct distribution to leading international bodies including the World Health Organization, the International Commission on Radiological Protection, and the International Atomic Energy Agency.

We offer four products to suit different communication objectives:

- 1. Banner in the IOMP Newsletter — Your company logo, linked to your website or profile page, displayed in our bimonthly Newsletter and distributed electronically to over 50,000 subscribers worldwide.
- 2. Sponsored Article in the eMPW Bulletin — A dedicated editorial placement of up to 2,000 words in IOMP's official bulletin, published in June and December each year.
- 3. Sponsored Webinar (60 minutes) — A live, co-branded webinar hosted on the IOMP platform and promoted across all our communication channels. Topics must be relevant to medical physics or closely related fields.
- 4. Sponsored Email Blast — A dedicated, standalone email broadcast sent via Mailchimp directly to our complete subscriber list of over 50,000 recipients — delivering your message as the sole focus of the communication.

Please find attached our Advertising & Publishing Rates 2026, which sets out full details of each product, all applicable rates, and the exclusive discounts available to IOMP Corporate Members (Silver 25%, Gold 50%, Platinum 75%).

We would be delighted to discuss how these opportunities can best support your organisation's objectives. Please do not hesitate to contact us.

Yours sincerely,

Chai Hong Yeong, PhD

Chair, Medical Physics World Board
