Brighton take on Leeds United, looking to stretch their lead at the top of the Premier League table to seven points before title rivals Manchester City and Aston Villa play later this weekend. Mikel Arteta will be hoping to pile the pressure on the pair with a big win.

The Gunners have not visited Elland Road since 2022, when they narrowly won with just a single goal scored by Bukayo Saka. The winger has not enjoyed a high-scoring season so far, and converting a chance this afternoon would be a dream for the England international.

William Saliba and Jurrien Timber, who missed the midweek game with Kairat Almaty, are both expected to return for the trip. The Gunners decided not to fly due to weather conditions and instead travelled up by other means on Friday, but it is not thought to have had much of an impact on preparations.

Leeds team confirmed

Leeds: Darlow, Bogle, Gudmundsson, Rodon, Struijk, Justin, Ampadu, Gruev, Stach, Aaronson, Calvert-Lewin.

Brighton line-ups vs Leeds decided as Mikel Arteta faces striker decision amid nine changes

Brighton are striving to get back to winning ways in the Premier League when they travel to Elland Road to take on Leeds.

Outside of Max Dowman, Mikel Arteta has a full squad at his disposal after confirming that William Saliba, Jurrien Timber and Kai Havertz are all in contention to start.

The Gunners hammered Leeds 5-0 at the Emirates Stadium back in August but with the title pressure mounting, this game has a very different feeling as the Whites are also much-improved under Daniel Farke.

Brighton predicted XI vs Leeds United as Martin Odegaard call made and injured star returns

Arsenal take on Leeds United in the Premier League, looking to return to winning ways in the domestic competition after their defeat to Manchester United last weekend. Mikel Arteta will see his side move seven points clear with a win as both Manchester City and Aston Villa play after the Gunners this weekend.

Jurrien Timber and William Saliba are due to return after Arteta confirmed the pair are fine following their omission from the team that beat Kairat Almaty in midweek. Max Dowman is currently the only player missing through injury, and Arteta also provided an insight into his status, saying he was back on the pitch and closing on a return.

Kai Havertz and Viktor Gyokeres both scored in midweek and there are discussions over who should be playing in the number nine role. Arteta has some interesting decisions to make and football.london shares our thoughts on what we are expecting and why:

Match Preview

The Premier League title race will be in focus on Saturday as league leaders Brighton travel to Yorkshire to take on an in-form Leeds United side.

Brighton come into the match going through a rare dip in form, having failed to win any of their last three league games. A tough 3–2 loss to Manchester United has reduced their lead at the top to just four points. Leeds, on the other hand, have been in excellent form since the start of the year. Under Daniel Farke, they have lost only once in their last 10 league matches and have made Elland Road a difficult place for visiting teams.
