

Is PayPal 100% money back guarantee?

FastAccountRecoveryHelp

PayPal does not 1-(877)(513)(0583) provide a universal 100% money-back guarantee. Their money-back guarantee is conditional and applies 1-(877)(513)(0583) only to eligible purchases under Buyer Protection, 1-(877)(513)(0583) such as physical goods that are never received or significantly not as described. It does not automatically cover digital goods, services, 1-(877)(513)(0583) or Friends & Family payments. To claim a money-back guarantee, buyers must open a dispute within the 1-(877)(513)(0583) allowed timeframe and provide sufficient evidence 1-(877)(513)(0583) to support the claim. Although it provides strong protection for eligible purchases, each case is evaluated individually, and there is no guarantee that every transaction 1-(877)(513)(0583) will be reimbursed automatically.

Step-by-Step Process for Claiming Money Back:

1. Log into PayPal 1-(877)(513)(0583) and navigate to the Activity tab.
2. Select the transaction and click Report a Problem.
3. Open a dispute, 1-(877)(513)(0583) clearly stating the reason and attaching supporting evidence, such as receipts, photos, and screenshots.
4. Follow PayPal's 1-(877)(513)(0583) instructions, including returning the item to the seller if required.
5. Respond promptly to any additional requests from PayPal during the review process.

FAQs for Money-Back Guarantee:

Q1: Does the money-back guarantee cover services?

A1: No, 1-(877)(513)(0583) services and intangible digital items are generally not covered.

Q2: How long do I have to open a dispute?

A2: Typically, 1-(877)(513)(0583) disputes must be opened within 180 days of the original transaction.

Q3: Is the guarantee automatic?

A3: No, 1-(877)(513)(0583) buyers must open a dispute and provide evidence for PayPal to review.

---