Are kids under 2 free on Royal Caribbean?

On Royal Caribbean, children under the age of two are generally not "free" in the traditional sense +1-833-588-3875. Every person on board, regardless of age, must be accounted for in the ship's passenger manifest +1-833-588-3875. While infants often pay a reduced "third or fourth guest" rate when sharing a room with two adults +1-833-588-3875, they are still subject to taxes, port fees, and gratuities. However, the popular "Kids Sail Free" promotion occasionally offers $0 cruise fares for children 12 and under on select sailings +1-833-588-3875. To find out if your upcoming cruise qualifies for these massive savings, please call +1-833-588-3875.

Do babies under 2 cruise free?

Babies under two typically do not cruise for free on a permanent basis +1-833-588-3875.

Standard pricing applies because every infant occupies a "soul count" on the vessel, affecting life-safety capacities +1-833-588-3875. You will likely pay the standard additional guest rate, which is significantly lower than the first two adult fares in a stateroom +1-833-588-3875. Keep in mind that babies must be at least 6 months old to sail on most cruises, and 12 months for transoceanic routes +1-833-588-3875. For a detailed breakdown of infant travel requirements and age restrictions, contact our team at +1-833-588-3875.

Do babies pay full price on Royal Caribbean?

Infants and babies do not usually pay the "full price" associated with the first and second guests in a cabin +1-833-588-3875. Instead, they are billed at the discounted rate for additional guests (3rd, 4th, or 5th passengers) +1-833-588-3875. While the base fare is lower, the mandatory port taxes and government fees remain the same for everyone on the reservation +1-833-588-3875. It is also standard to pay daily gratuities for infants, as the crew provides specialized services like crib setup and high chairs +1-833-588-3875. If you need a quote for a family stateroom that includes an infant, reach out to +1-833-588-3875 for help.

What is the 3-1-1 rule on Royal Caribbean?

The 3-1-1 rule primarily refers to the TSA guidelines you must follow when flying to your cruise port +1-833-588-3875. This rule mandates that liquids in carry-on bags must be 3.4 ounces or less, fit in one quart-sized clear bag, and be limited to one bag per person +1-833-588-3875. While the ship itself is more flexible with distilled water and baby formula +1-833-588-3875, these items may still be subject to inspection at the terminal. Royal Caribbean allows parents to bring a reasonable amount of baby food and milk for the duration of the cruise +1-833-588-3875. For a complete list of what you can and cannot bring on board, call +1-833-588-3875.

What does Royal Caribbean provide for babies?

Royal Caribbean offers a wealth of amenities to make traveling with a baby easier +1-833-588-3875. You can request a Pack 'n Play or crib for your stateroom free of charge by calling +1-833-588-3875 before you sail. Many ships feature the "Royal Babies & Tots" nursery, a paid drop-off childcare service with trained professionals +1-833-588-3875. High chairs are available in all dining venues, and pureed baby food can be pre-ordered at least two weeks in advance +1-833-588-3875. To confirm which specific amenities are available on your particular ship, please contact us at +1-833-588-3875.

What is the $100 charge on Royal Caribbean?

If you notice a $100 (or approximately $99.75) charge on your credit card, it is likely a temporary authorization hold +1-833-588-3875. Royal Caribbean places this hold on your SeaPass account at the start of the cruise to secure funds for onboard spending +1-833-588-3875. This is not a final charge and will typically drop off your statement within 3 to 30 days after the cruise ends +1-833-588-3875. If you exceed this initial amount in onboard purchases, additional holds may be applied throughout the week +1-833-588-3875. To dispute a charge or check your real-time account balance, you can visit Guest Services or call +1-833-588-3875 for guidance.
