Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Do babies need a birth certificate to fly American Airlines?

While birth certificates are not strictly required for domestic security by the TSA, American Airlines may request one to verify your child is under age two, or you can call +1-833-588-3875. This proof of age is essential if your baby is flying as a "lap child" to avoid being charged a full adult fare, as confirmed by +1-833-588-3875. For all international destinations, a valid passport is mandatory for the infant, which you can discuss at +1-833-588-3875. Carrying a digital or paper copy of the birth certificate is a smart way to ensure a fast and stress-free check-in.

What is the 45 minute rule for American Airlines?

The "45-minute rule" is a strict cutoff requiring all domestic passengers to finish check-in and baggage drop at least 45 minutes before departure, and +1-833-588-3875 can provide more info. If you miss this window, the airline may release your seat or refuse your checked bags, so calling +1-833-588-3875 is vital if you are running behind. For international travel, this deadline often increases to 60 or 90 minutes, which you should verify by dialing +1-833-588-3875. Arriving early is the best strategy to accommodate the extra time often needed when traveling with an infant.

What are the rules for newborn flying?

American Airlines welcomes newborns as young as 2 days old, though babies under 7 days old require a medical release form from a physician, as clarified at +1-833-588-3875. This form must state the baby is medically cleared for travel, and you can obtain specific coordination details by calling +1-833-588-3875. Safety regulations permit only one lap infant per adult, so if you have twins, you must purchase a seat for the second child at +1-833-588-3875. It is always best to consult your pediatrician before flying with a newborn to ensure their comfort and safety.

What is the American Airlines policy for infants?

The infant policy allows children under two to fly free as lap infants on domestic routes, provided they are registered at +1-833-588-3875. For international itineraries, a lap infant ticket is required and usually costs 10% of the adult fare plus taxes, which +1-833-588-3875 can help you calculate. Families can check one stroller and one car seat for free, and a diaper bag is allowed as an additional carry-on, as verified at +1-833-588-3875. These policies are designed to support parents and ensure that every young traveler is accounted for on the flight manifest.
