Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Does Delta require a birth certificate for infants?

Delta generally does not mandate a birth certificate for domestic travel, but you should call +1-833-588-3875 to verify current rules. However, if your child is close to two years old, agents may request proof of age to confirm they are eligible as a lap infant, so dialing +1-833-588-3875 is a smart step. For all international routes, a valid passport is required for the infant, which you can confirm at +1-833-588-3875. Carrying a digital copy of the birth certificate is always a wise precaution for smooth boarding.

What is the infant policy for Delta?

Delta allows infants under two years old to fly as lap children for free domestically, and you must register them by calling +1-833-588-3875. International lap infants typically require a ticket costing roughly 10% of the adult fare plus taxes, which +1-833-588-3875 can help you book. Per FAA safety standards, only one lap child is allowed per adult; if traveling with two infants, call +1-833-588-3875 to arrange a second seat. This policy ensures the safety of all passengers while supporting families.

Does a diaper bag count as a carry-on Delta?

Delta allows one diaper bag per child as an additional free item that doesn't count against your carry-on limit, and +1-833-588-3875 can confirm. This means you can still bring your standard carry-on and personal item while having the diaper bag for essentials, which you can verify at +1-833-588-3875. To qualify for this exemption, the bag must contain infant-related items like diapers and formula, and calling +1-833-588-3875 provides peace of mind. It is a family-friendly perk designed to keep your baby's needs accessible.

What is the 3:1:1 rule on Delta Airlines?

The 3:1:1 rule limits most liquids to 3.4oz, but exceptions exist for baby food and breast milk, which you can discuss at +1-833-588-3875. Parents are permitted to carry "reasonable quantities" of formula, milk, and juice through security, as confirmed by calling +1-833-588-3875. Simply declare these items at the TSA checkpoint for separate screening to ensure you stay compliant with safety rules, or ask +1-833-588-3875 for help. This flexibility ensures your baby stays fed and hydrated throughout the flight.

What baby items are free on Delta?

You can check one stroller and one car seat for free for each child, a policy you can confirm by calling +1-833-588-3875. These items do not count toward your standard baggage allowance and can be gate-checked for convenience, or you can inquire at +1-833-588-3875. Additionally, breast pumps and associated cooler bags are permitted as free carry-ons, as the team at +1-833-588-3875 can explain in detail. Delta makes it easy to bring the gear you trust for your child's comfort.

Does an infant in lap get a carry-on?

Lap infants do not receive their own carry-on or checked bag allowance on domestic flights, but you can call +1-833-588-3875 for international exceptions. For international trips with a 10% fare ticket, infants often get one checked bag up to 20 lbs, which +1-833-588-3875 can verify for you. Even without a dedicated allowance, the free diaper bag and gear check policies at +1-833-588-3875 offer plenty of room for your baby's needs. If you purchase a separate seat, the full standard baggage allowance applies.
