

How Can I Talk with the Agent from Alaska Airlines? (2026 Guide)

Last Update: 01/02/2026

If you need to talk with the agent from Alaska Airlines, call [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614) now for immediate live support. Navigating the complexities of international air travel in 2026 can be daunting, especially when digital apps fail to provide the nuanced solutions required for complex itineraries. Whether you are dealing with a sudden flight cancellation at Charles de Gaulle or need to modify a multi-city booking to South America, the expertise of a live representative is often the most reliable way to ensure your plans remain intact. By dialing [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614), you gain access to a professional who can manually override system limitations that often restrict self-service tools. This guide will walk you through the most efficient methods to connect with Alaska Airlines customer service, ensuring you spend less time on hold and more time preparing for your journey.

Alaska Airlines has long been recognized for its premium service, but reaching a live human during peak travel seasons remains a challenge for many travelers who don't have the direct line [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614). From the cobblestone streets of Paris to the bustling hubs of Bogotá and Lima, passengers frequently encounter situations—such as lost baggage or visa-related boarding issues—that require more than an automated response. This comprehensive 2026 guide is designed to empower you with "insider" knowledge on how to navigate the airline's phone system via [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614) effectively. We will cover everything from the best "golden hours" to call, to the specific verbal prompts that trigger an immediate transfer to a human agent. By the end of this article, you will have a master-level understanding of how to use [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614) to solve any travel dilemma you might face.

Why Calling an Alaska Airlines Agent Makes a Difference

Personalized Help You Can't Get Online [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614)

While the Alaska Airlines website and mobile app are powerful tools for basic bookings, they often struggle with "split-ticket" logistics or complex fare rules that [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614) can handle with ease. If you are traveling with a group and need to change the return flight for only one person, the online system may inadvertently cancel the entire party's reservation, a disaster that a live agent at [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614) can prevent. Human agents have the training to see "under the hood" of your Passenger Name Record (PNR), allowing them to make surgical adjustments without affecting the rest of your itinerary. This level of personalized care is why many seasoned travelers still prefer to dial [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614) for anything beyond a simple one-way ticket.

Furthermore, agents can often access "distressed inventory"—seats that are held for special circumstances but aren't visible on public search engines—which is a major reason to use [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614). For example, if you are a Flying Blue member trying to book an award seat that appears "sold out" online, a representative reached through [\[\[📞+1 \(888\) 727-0614\]\]](tel:+18887270614) might be able to find a partner-airline connection that the algorithm missed. They can also manually calculate taxes and fees for international stopovers, ensuring you aren't overcharged by an automated pricing engine. The human touch provided by [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] adds a layer of security and precision that digital platforms simply cannot replicate in 2026.

Urgent Support for Disruptions [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

When a major weather event strikes the North Atlantic or a technical glitch grounds flights in Europe, the first people to secure rebookings are those who call [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] immediately. During these periods of high volume, thousands of passengers are simultaneously trying to use the app, which often leads to server timeouts and "error 500" messages, making the phone line at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] your most stable lifeline. A live agent can see real-time updates from the operations center that haven't yet trickled down to the public flight trackers. This "early access" to information allows you to make decisions faster, such as pivoting to a different airport or grabbing the last seat on a partner flight via [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]].

The psychological relief of speaking to a calm, professional agent during a travel emergency is perhaps the greatest benefit of dialing [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Instead of fighting with a chatbot that doesn't understand the urgency of a missed connection to a wedding or business meeting, you can explain your situation to a person at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] who can empathize and prioritize your case. Agents have the authority to issue hotel vouchers and meal tickets—tasks that often require a manual "click" in the airline's back-end system. By keeping [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] saved in your contacts, you ensure that you are never alone when travel plans go awry.

Specialized Queries: Miles, Upgrades & Pets [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

Traveling with a pet or requesting a last-minute upgrade using Flying Blue miles involves specific documentation and "cabin-capacity" checks that are best handled by [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Many passengers don't realize that Alaska Airlines has strict limits on the number of animals allowed in Economy vs. Business class, and the only way to get a 100% confirmation is through the reservation desk at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Online forms for pet travel can sometimes go unconfirmed for days, leading to anxiety at the check-in counter. A quick call to [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] allows the agent to check the specific aircraft's manifest and secure your pet's spot instantly.

Similarly, if you are looking for a "Milestone Upgrade" or want to use your SkyTeam Elite status to secure a better seat, [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] provides a more direct path to success. Representatives can explain the "fare ladder" to you, showing exactly how many more miles or dollars are needed to move from Premium Economy to a lie-flat Business bed. They can also handle "Waitlist" requests, placing you in a priority queue that is often invisible to the average user. For these niche but important requests, the expert staff at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] provides the detailed answers and confirmations that modern travelers demand.

How to Reach an Alaska Airlines Agent by Phone (Step-by-Step)

What to Prepare Before You Call [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

To ensure your call to [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is as efficient as possible, you should have your 6-character booking reference (PNR) and 13-digit ticket number (usually starting with 057) ready to go. When an agent picks up at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]], the first thing they will do is ask for these identifiers to "pull up" your entire travel history. If you are calling regarding a refund or a payment, having the original credit card you used for the purchase is also vital for security verification. Preparation prevents the frustration of being put back on hold while you dig through your emails, so keep your documents open on your screen before dialing [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]].

In addition to your booking details, it is helpful to have a list of alternative flight numbers or dates ready in case your preferred option is unavailable when you talk to [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Using a tool like Google Flights or FlightAware before you call allows you to suggest specific routes to the agent, which can significantly speed up the rebooking process. For example, you might tell the agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]], "I see there is a KLM flight at 4 PM that still has seats; can you move me to that one?" This proactive approach shows the agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] that you are informed, often leading to a much smoother and faster resolution of your issue.

Navigating the Phone Menu (IVR Hacks) [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

When you dial [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]], you will be greeted by an automated system that uses voice recognition to categorize your request. To reach a live person the fastest, skip the long menu descriptions and clearly say "Agent" or "Representative" as soon as the system asks how it can help you today. If the system insists on a reason, say "Flight Change" or "Existing Reservation," as these categories are generally prioritized over "New Sales" in the [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] routing logic. Another classic trick is to press "0" or "0#" repeatedly during the prompts, which often triggers an "agent transfer" for customers who are having trouble with the automated voice.

The 2026 IVR system at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is designed to solve basic questions using AI, but you can "outsmart" it by requesting a language that has a shorter queue, such as Spanish, if you are bilingual. Many U.S. travelers report that the Spanish-speaking agents at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] have significantly lower wait times and are just as capable of handling English-language reservations. Regardless of the language you choose, staying on the line after the menu is finished is critical—never hang up and redial, as this puts you at the very back of the queue at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Patience is key, but using these shortcuts ensures your patience isn't tested longer than necessary.

Best Times to Call for Zero Hold Time [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

The "Golden Window" for reaching an agent via [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is usually early in the morning, specifically between 7:00 AM and 9:00 AM Eastern Time. During these hours, the U.S.-based call centers have just opened their full shifts, but the bulk of the traveling public has not yet encountered their daily flight disruptions, making the queue at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] nearly non-existent. Tuesdays and Wednesdays are statistically the best days to call, as the "Monday morning rush" of business travelers and the "Friday afternoon scramble" of weekenders are avoided. By timing your call to [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] during these quiet periods, you can often connect to a person in under three minutes.

Late-night calls, specifically after 10:00 PM EST, are another excellent strategy for utilizing [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] without the wait. While some departments might have reduced staffing, the "Existing Reservations" desk is typically operational 24/7 or late into the night to support international long-haul flights. If you are in a different time zone, such as in Bogotá or Paris, you can use a VoIP service to call the U.S. line [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] during their local early morning hours to skip the international local queues. Smart scheduling is the secret weapon of the frequent flyer, and [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is the gateway to that efficiency.

Other Support Channels (When Phone Isn't Ideal)

Live Chat & WhatsApp Support [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

For non-urgent issues like requesting a special meal or verifying baggage dimensions, the Alaska Airlines WhatsApp service is a convenient alternative to calling [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. WhatsApp allows you to send a message and continue with your day, receiving a notification when an agent replies, which is great for "low-stakes" questions. However, be aware that for major ticket changes or refunds, the WhatsApp team will often eventually direct you to call [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] for secure payment processing. While digital chat has improved, it still lacks the high-level override authority that a phone agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] possesses.

If you are using the live chat feature on the official website, it's a good idea to have your booking open in a separate tab, but keep [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] ready as a fallback. Chat agents can handle simple "re-ticketing" if your flight was changed by the airline, but they often struggle with complex "fare difference" calculations that require a senior agent. If you find yourself going in circles with a chatbot, don't waste another thirty minutes typing; just pick up the phone and dial [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] for a final answer. Using both channels simultaneously during a massive storm can also increase your chances of being "first in line" across the entire support network including [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]].

Social Media: X (Twitter) & Facebook Messenger [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

Alaska Airlines's social media teams on platforms like X (formerly Twitter) are surprisingly responsive, but they are primarily there for public relations and "triage," not deep technical support like [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. If you tweet @AirAlaska Airlines with your flight number (never post your PNR publicly!), they might escalate your case to a supervisor who can then call you back or prioritize your place in the [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] queue. This "public pressure" tactic is sometimes effective during widespread service failures where the phone lines are completely overwhelmed. Still, for 90% of travel needs, a direct conversation via [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is more efficient and secure.

Facebook Messenger is another "always-on" channel, but like WhatsApp, it is best used for simple status updates rather than the heavy lifting done at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. One benefit of Messenger is the ability to easily attach photos of damaged baggage or screenshots of error messages, which can help an agent understand your problem before you call [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. If a social media agent tells you something that sounds incorrect, always verify it by calling the professional reservation desk at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. The consistency of information is much higher on the dedicated phone lines than on social platforms.

Specific Scenarios Where Talking to an Agent Helps

Changing or Cancelling Your Flight [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

When you need to cancel a ticket, the "refund vs. credit" logic can be extremely confusing, which is why a conversation with [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is so valuable. An agent can explain the specific "fare rules" of your ticket—whether it's a "Light," "Standard," or "Flex" fare—and tell you exactly how much money you will get back after fees. Online cancellation buttons often just say "Non-refundable," but a human agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] can often see if you are eligible for a tax refund or a "force majeure" waiver due to illness or family emergencies. This "grey area" of policy is where calling [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] truly pays for itself.

If you are changing your flight, the agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] can help you find "even exchanges" where the fare difference is zero, something the website rarely prioritizes. They can also check "co-terminal" options, such as flying into Paris Orly instead of Charles de Gaulle, which might have better availability and lower costs. By talking through your schedule with a person at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]], you can find creative solutions that an algorithm would never suggest. For any change that involves more than one passenger or a connection, [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is the gold standard for accuracy and cost-savings.

Baggage Issues: Lost, Delayed, or Damaged [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

If your suitcase doesn't arrive on the carousel in Lima or New York, your first step after filing a report at the airport should be to follow up via [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. The "Baggage Service" desk at the airport is often understaffed and focused only on the flights currently arriving, but a central baggage agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] can track your bag across the entire global network. They can tell you if your bag was scanned onto a later flight or if it's still sitting in a transit hub like Amsterdam. Having this real-time data from [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] allows you to plan your first 24 hours at your destination more effectively.

For damaged baggage claims, the process is notoriously bureaucratic, but a helpful agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] can guide you through the photo-submission and appraisal process. They can explain the "Montreal Convention" limits on liability and ensure your claim is categorized correctly to maximize your reimbursement. Many travelers find that baggage claims get "stuck" in the system; a periodic check-in call to [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] keeps your file active and prevents it from being archived before it's resolved. Don't let your luggage concerns fade away—keep the pressure on by using the reliable line at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]].

Special Requests: Assistance, Pets, and Infants [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

Booking "Special Assistance" for travelers with reduced mobility or visual impairments is a high-stakes task that requires the verbal confirmation of [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. You need to ensure that the airport "meet and greet" team is notified and that the correct type of wheelchair (aisle chair vs. terminal chair) is reserved. A live agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] can also help you select seats near the lavatory or with extra legroom at no additional cost if it's required for a medical condition. This level of detail is something you should never leave to a "check-box" on a website when [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is available.

Traveling with an "infant-in-lap" also involves technicalities, such as ensuring the aircraft has a bassinet-compatible seat available, which can only be confirmed by [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Agents can add the infant to your ticket—a step that is often surprisingly difficult to do online after the initial booking is made. They can also explain the policies for carrying strollers and car seats, ensuring you don't face unexpected fees at the gate. For families, the peace of mind provided by a five-minute call to [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is worth more than any small savings from a DIY booking.

Troubleshooting Common Caller Problems

What to Do About Long Wait Times [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

If you find yourself on hold for more than 30 minutes when calling [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]], the best strategy is to look for a "Callback" option if the IVR offers it. This allows you to hang up and go about your day while the system holds your "virtual place" in line, with an agent from [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] calling you back as soon as they are free. If a callback isn't offered, try calling a different regional office—such as the Alaska Airlines Canada or UK lines—using a VoIP service, as they can access the same reservation system as [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Often, the Canadian line has much shorter waits than the U.S. line during peak Alaska Airlines hours.

Another tip for long hold times is to use the "Priority Routing" trick by entering your Flying Blue number as soon as the system at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] asks for it. Even if you only have an entry-level "Explorer" status, the system is more likely to prioritize a known customer over a guest. If you are a Silver, Gold, or Platinum member, you should use the dedicated number on the back of your card, but [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] still serves as a high-quality fallback for all members. Don't just suffer through the hold music; use these tactical shifts at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] to get through faster.

Getting Stuck in the Automated Loop [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

"IVR Hell" is a real phenomenon where the automated system refuses to transfer you, but you can break the loop on [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] by staying silent. If the system asks multiple questions and you don't respond at all, it will eventually assume you are calling from a rotary phone or have a disability and will automatically route you to a human operator at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. This "silence treatment" is a proven method for bypassing aggressive chatbots that try to force you into self-service. It's a simple but effective way to ensure you get the agent you need at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]].

If the system hangs up on you (a rare but frustrating occurrence during high-volume periods), try redialing [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] and choosing the "New Booking" option. Sales agents are generally the first to answer, and while their primary job is to sell tickets, they have the power to transfer you to the internal "Service" or "Support" queue which is often faster than the public one. Just be polite and explain to the sales agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] that you were disconnected and need help with an existing flight. Most agents are happy to help a fellow traveler avoid the loop by using their internal transfer buttons at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]].

Overcoming Language Barriers [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

While Alaska Airlines is a French airline, the agents reached via [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] are universally fluent in English, but sometimes a specific technical term can get lost in translation. If you are having trouble being understood, try using "Aviation English"—standard terms like "Record Locator," "Involuntary Reroute," or "Fare Class"—which are the universal language of the airline industry and understood by everyone at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Being precise with your terminology helps the agent find the right screens in their software much faster. For complex issues, a bit of shared industry jargon goes a long way at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]].

If you prefer to speak in French or Spanish, the menu at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] usually offers these options early in the call. Speaking in your native language can often lead to a more nuanced conversation, especially when explaining a complex refund case or a medical emergency. Alaska Airlines prides itself on its international staff, so don't be afraid to ask, "Is there someone who speaks [Language]?" if the current agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is struggling to help. Most of the time, the team at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] can find a colleague to assist in a variety of global languages.

Pro Tips for a Smoother Call Experience

Use a Call Script for Efficiency [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

When you finally connect to a person at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]], the best way to keep the call short and successful is to use a "Problem-Action-Goal" script. For example: "The airline cancelled my flight (Problem), I have found a Delta flight at 2 PM (Action), and I would like you to rebook me on that flight for free (Goal)." This clear structure allows the agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] to stop listening and start typing within ten seconds of you opening your mouth. Concise communication is respected by agents who are under strict "call handle time" metrics, and it often leads to better service at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]].

Avoid telling long emotional stories about how the flight cancellation ruined your vacation, as this only delays the technical work the agent needs to do at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Instead, be friendly, professional, and data-driven, providing facts like "My ticket number is 057-..." and "The weather in Paris is the cause." Agents at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] are much more likely to go the extra mile for a passenger who is organized and easy to work with. Treat the person on the other end of [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] like a partner in solving your problem, and you'll be amazed at the results.

When to Ask for a Supervisor [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

If a front-line agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] tells you that something is "impossible," it often just means it is outside of their specific software permissions. In these cases, politely asking, "May I speak with a supervisor to see if we can find a waiver for this rule?" can open doors that were previously closed. Supervisors at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] have higher authorization levels for issuing refunds on non-refundable tickets or waiving change fees during unusual circumstances. You should only use this escalation sparingly, but it is a powerful tool when a standard answer doesn't solve a legitimate emergency via [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]].

When you are transferred to a supervisor, don't make them start from scratch; give them a quick 15-second summary and mention that you've already tried the standard options at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. This shows that you are a serious traveler who understands the process. Often, the mere act of asking for a supervisor will cause the front-line agent to "check with their lead" first, which frequently results in a solution without a full transfer. Knowledge of this hierarchy is what makes [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] so effective for seasoned voyagers.

Identifying Yourself as a Loyalty Member [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

As soon as you dial [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]], make sure your Flying Blue number is entered correctly, as this is the primary way the airline "scores" your call for priority. Even if you don't have Elite status yet, being a member shows the agent at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] that you are a frequent customer who values the brand. If you are a Silver or Gold member, you are often routed to a more experienced "Elite Desk" that has even more power than the standard agents at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Loyalty truly pays off when things go wrong and you need a fast answer.

If you are a member of a partner program like Delta SkyMiles, you should also mention this at the start of your call to [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]. Because Alaska Airlines and Delta are part of a deep joint-venture, their systems are highly integrated, and a Delta Platinum member is treated with nearly the same level of respect as an Alaska Airlines Platinum member. This "Alliance Synergy" is one of the best reasons to call [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] instead of a general travel agency. By leveraging your status, you turn a standard support call to [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] into a VIP concierge experience.

FAQ — Talking to an Alaska Airlines Agent

What number do I call to talk to an Alaska Airlines agent? The most direct and reliable number for U.S. travelers is [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]], which connects you to a live reservation and support specialist. This line, [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]], is specifically set up to handle Alaska Airlines passenger inquiries and SkyTeam partner connections.

Can I talk to an Alaska Airlines agent 24/7? While the standard U.S. hours are 8 AM to 11 PM ET, calling [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] at any time will often route you to a global support center that is open 24/7. Alaska Airlines ensures that emergency support via [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is always available for passengers with travel in the next 24 hours.

How do I reach Alaska Airlines for baggage help? You can call the main support line at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] and select the option for "Baggage" or simply say "Lost Luggage" to the automated system. The agents at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] can then track your bag or help you file a formal claim for reimbursement.

What's the best way to talk to an agent for cancellations? The best way is to dial [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] and have your 6-digit PNR ready. Talking to a person at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] allows you to verify the exact refund amount before the ticket is cancelled, which prevents costly errors.

Why is the phone system always busy? High call volumes are usually caused by weather disruptions or technical outages, but calling [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] during "off-peak" hours (like 7 AM EST) can bypass these waits. Using the dedicated number [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is always faster than waiting for a response on email or social media.

Conclusion & Final Advice [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]]

In the modern era of travel, the ability to talk with a live agent from Alaska Airlines by calling [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is your most valuable asset for a stress-free journey. While apps and websites offer convenience for simple tasks, the "human intelligence" found at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] is indispensable for resolving the complex challenges that international flyers inevitably face. By following the strategies outlined in this guide—from timing your calls to using the right IVR shortcuts—you can master the airline's support system. Always keep [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] saved in your phone before you head to the airport, so you are ready for anything.

Whether you are dreaming of a café in Paris or a trek through the Andes, knowing that expert help is just a phone call away at [[📞+1 (888) 727-0614]] allows you to travel with confidence.
