What channel is Man City v Fulham Premier League match on? TV coverage, live stream and kick-off time

Check out how to watch Man City v Fulham in the Premier League, including TV channel, radio coverage and kick-off time.

Manchester City can cut Arsenal's lead at the top of the Premier League to three points with a victory over Fulham on Wednesday evening.

Pep Guardiola's side came from behind against Liverpool on Sunday to end their long wait for a victory at Anfield and breathe fresh life into their title hopes.

With Arsenal not in action until Thursday, Man City now have the chance to pile the pressure on them by cutting the gap in half.

Fulham head to the Etihad on the back of consecutive defeats at the hands of Man Utd and Everton.

Marco Silva's side are still well placed in the race for European football but will be wary of losing more ground should their losing run continue.

RadioTimes.com has rounded up everything you need to know about how to watch Man City v Fulham on TV and online.
